CONSTANTINOPLE, January 11.

THE Post is just going out, and all the City is in an Uproar. The Seditious are assembled in great Numbers, and demand the deposing of the Grand Signior, or at least the Grand Vizir. What all this will come to we don't yet know, but a great Revolution is fear'd in this Empire.

Cork, Feb. 9. We are assur'd, that on the 18th of January last, there was drove on Shore on the Banks of Barly-cove, in the Barony of West-carbery and County of Cork, the Hopewell of Liverpoole, Charles Pearson, Master, laden with Beef and tann'd Hides from Limerick, bound for Cork. Immediately after she was drove on Shore, there assembled in a riotous Manner eight or nine hundred Persons, who boarded the Ship, cut and plunder'd her and the Cargo, and would have wreck'd her in less than two Hours, were it not for the Master's Courage, who fir'd upon them and cleared the Deck several Times; but being at last overcome by the Multitude, was forced to fly for Shelter into his Cabin. The Rabble continued throwing Stones at him, and boarded him again, but were likewise repulsed, and the Deck cleared by the Master, who was at length, after some Hours Engagement, (through Providence) reliev'd by Richard Edward Hull, of Lemcon in the County of Cork, Esq; who brought a Party of his Men in Arms to the Master's Assistance; and when they came to the Strand where the Rabble were, fired upon and soon dispersed them; in which Action several were wounded. Notwithstanding all this, Mr. Hull was obliged to bring the Master under a strong Guard to his House for fear of being murder'd by them.----- This is observed to be the first Ship ever saved in this Country, which was occasioned by the strong Resistance aforesaid.

L O N D O N, February 26.

Extract of a Letter from Capt. John Purnel, Commander of the Britania, homeward bound from New York to Dublin, that was stranded on the Coast of Ireland, by the People of the Country cutting his Cable in the Night time.

On our Ship's driving ashore, we took to the Long-boat, and saved ourselves; and the next Day, when the Tide was gone from her, I and my People, joined by a worthy Gentleman and his Servants, armed ourselves with each a Brace of Pistols, and a Cutlass, expecting an Attack every Minute. Soon after these Barbarians came down in great Numbers, with intent to murder us all, and make a Wreck; but the first Man that boarded us I wounded with a Turkish Spear in the Right Arm, and he fell; and the rest were drove back, and then got our Guns ashore; made a Battery, and have laid under Arms Night and Day ever since. On the 25th I had the Misfortune to be blown up by a large Quantity of Powder taking fire, as we were charging one of our great Guns; and having then on me a Brace of Pistols loaded with eleven Balls, two Powder-Horns, and my Spear in my Hand, I was by one of the Pistols going off, most miserably wounded in several Parts of my Body, so that my Life was despaired of; but by the Blessing of God, and the Care of an able Surgeon, I am in a fair way of doing well.

This brave unhappy Commander had the Misfortune, at the Beginning of the War, to lose a Ship, and fall into the Hands of the Spaniards, by whom he was most barbarously treated; but the Consequences of the Cruelty of his Fellow Subjects have proved much more terrible than all the Hardships he suffered from an ungenerous, inveterate Enemy.

Extract of a Letter, from New-York, Monday Night, May 18.

Just now came on Shore 42 Men, some that had been Prisoners at the Havana, and some lately taken on our Coast, four of them Captains of Vessels; their Story is this.

The Privateer that took them lay off the Coast of Virginia; There were four fitted out besides this one, from the Havana, at the same time, with a Resolution to cruise all along these Coasts. This Privateer has taken a Ship from Glasgow, a Ship from Whitehaven, one from Virginia and one from North-Carolina all within these 10 Days. Out of the North Carolina Vessel they took 100 Barrels, Pitch and Tar, and put these Men on board, and sent them hither, quite strip'd of all they had but their Cloaths on their backs, otherwise us'd them well. She is now gone off the Coast, having weakned her Number by manning the Prizes; and she herself is a dull Sailer.

Extract of a Letter from Charlestown, S. Carolina, April 25.

----- We have but little News stirring, except what the Indians have brought to Town: They have taken 5 French Pettiaugers, with all their Men, whom they put to Death, and have brought their Scalps along with them. The Manner they took them was thus: They lay in the Bushes, at the Side of an inland River, near Mississippi, and as the French row'd gently down the Stream, the Indians with a single Discharge of their small Arms and Arrows oblig'd them to surrender.

Early on Sunday Morning last a Fire broke out in a House at the Upper End of Front-Street, near the Ship yards, occasion'd by leaving a Candle carelessly in the Garret; the People sav'd their Goods, and it was extinguished before it got to the second Floor.
